

Announcing our new brand: Posillico

After completing in-depth interviews with our clients, we've learned why people choose us: they want an experienced company who can solve their complex construction problems across multiple disciplines. They know seamless integration saves them time and money.

We have also learned that the majority of our clients refer to us a "Posillico," regardless of which business unit they have contracted with. Construction work is complicated enough without us confusing the issue with our many different company names. So we're simplifying things. We are pleased to announce that effective April 16th, 2007, each of our companies will be known as Posillico.

We are one brand with many offerings. Our purpose is to solve complex construction problems safely on time and on budget.

JD Posillico, Inc.	is now	Posillico Civil, Inc.
Posillico Bros. Asphalt Co., LLC	is now	Posillico Materials, LLC
Blue Water Environmental, Inc.	is now	Posillico Environmental, Inc.
Piles, Drilling & Underground Solutions	is now	Posillico Drilling, Inc.
Metron Development Service, LLC	is now	Posillico Consulting, LLC
Posillico Development Company, LLC	is now	Posillico Development, LLC

We are excited about the increased integration between our practice areas. All other aspects, including our personnel and contact information, remain the same. All our contracted commitments are in full effect. Only the name on the invoices will change. You can count on Posillico to continue to provide you with the highest quality of service—just as we have for 61 years.

We look forward to talking with you about your construction needs.
